REALLY COOL FOOD, WITH A VERY ENGAGING STAFF

the food is quite good, shows variety and innovation- but it's the staff that really makes this a fun dining experience-- they really make you feel comfortable, welcomed and you're happy to spend your money here- the appetizers are really quite good- and the ambiance is very very nice.

DARING, BUT EXCELLENT

It's not the Mason's of your youth (or the Beach), but it carries forward a certain elegance and focus on fine dining. The food is terrific. The service is seamlessly helpful without being obsequious. A courageous decision is to forego a TV set. That's a BIG decision. Nevertheless, it sets a tone for the entire experience. We're there to "dine" (in an old fashion sense) & enjoy the company of our friends & family; not play video games. The colors are all Cafe Boulud: soft, grey & beige. Just lovely.

EXCELLENT NEW RESTAURANT

We have eaten here twice now, for dinner and tried the bar menu, both times were excellent. We really liked the bar menu, small plates, tasty and different, the egg crepe with trout was excellent as was the bangers and mash, the sausage was spicy, cocktails not included in Happy Hour which was a little disappointing but we got over it!

Dinner menu a little small but what we tasted was again very good, the beet tuna tartare was some of the best I've ever tasted, one comment I would make was serve your entree course on a larger plate!

We will be back again

OUTSTANDING MASON REDUX

An outstanding addition to Easton dining, it is good to return to Mason's with a bright uplift. The food is wonderful and the staff experienced and friendly. My friend and I sat for 3 hours over lunch with no problem. Excellent and sophisticated.

IT'S BACK

The Masons that we knew and loved is back! Had lunch there the other day, and it was outstanding. The decor is excellent, the food interesting and delicious, the staff friendly and fun. The menu is somewhat limited, but everything on it looked interesting. I had the roast beef sandwich which turned out to be cold meat on toast with a delicious source. Can't wait to go back and have a Lamburger. Don't believe the rumors around town that Masons is expensive. I dine in Easton for lunch quite regularly, and I feel that my lunch check was about 5 to 10 percent below the other first class restaurants in town.

HAPPY TO HAVE YOU BACK, MASONS

Everyone is grateful to have locals' favorite, Mason's, back under new ownership. If it's a different Mason's, it sure is every bit as good as it once was. Mason's has been renovated, redecorated and restocked, but what's returned is the fabulous traditional menu of meats and fish, inventively prepared and presented with flare. The risotto is the one vegetarian meal, which was light and prepared with broth, leeks, tomatoes and was delicious. The pork chop was moist and ample. Love the kale salad with pomegranate seeds and the delicious beet salad with toasted nuts, which could have been sugar coated because the dish was quite sweet. In the tradition of Talbot County, each guest is greeted like a treasured neighbor: the food may be elegant but the service is friendly and local. No one is pushing bottled water over tap or rushing you through your meal here. Welcome back, Mason's. You've been gone too long.

DINNER AT MASON'S

We stopped into Masons for dinner on Christmas Eve. We found the service to be spectacular. The Restaurant is under new management and has always had a great reputation. We found the food to be fantastic. We had three of the meal on the menu and were very satisfied with each meal. Great restaurant we will be going back soon.

OUTSTANDING RESTAURANT

We have been to Mason's three times since it's opening and have been extremely pleased. Aside from the wonderful update of the facility, the food selections are superb. We have had duck confit, snapper, clams, duck breast, scallops and lamb shank.....all phenomenal. The lamb shank is the best my husband has ever had! We are looking forward to our next meal at Masons. Highly recommended!

MASON'S: NEWEST DESTINATION FOR FINE DINING ON THE EASTERN SHORE

Under new ownership and management, Mason's in Easton, MD has reopened, and the results are both pleasing and encouraging.

Mason's was one of several white-tablecloth restaurants in Easton that closed in the last few years, such as Bartlett Pear and Columbia, decimating the fine dining options in town. After a brief reincarnation, Mason's has been remodeled and has joined the front line of top restaurants in the area.

The colors are neutral and pleasing. The overall décor is subtle yet confident. The sound level, controlled. The chairs, although without armrests, are high and quite comfortable. The linens, china, crystal and silverware, elegant.

The menu strikes a balance between the ambitious and the conservative. We started our dinner with duck confit and the tuna appetizer. Although the duck confit was very good, the flavors were softly defined. The tuna was superior. For our main course, we asked for duck breast and grouper. The former was very moist and evenly cooked with a tasty wine sauce; the grouper was gentle and substantial, and very attractively presented.

The wine list is not extensive, but most people will find a selection to their liking. We had the Raymond Merlot, which is always a quality product and, over the years, has remained quite versatile.

Service was quite good and will undoubtedly continue to get better with time and experience. Our waiters were friendly, cheerful and attentive. They apologized for a "delay at the bar" which we had not noticed.

With wine, tax and gratuity, our check was about $100 per person. We have spent much more, at times, for a more mediocre dinner.

The owners and managers of Mason's are committed to develop the restaurant to its full potential. As a brand new establishment, it is far along in its development already, way beyond what would be expected at this point in time. Diners from Washington, DC, Annapolis and the Eastern Shore should consider making the pilgrimage to Mason's for fine dining, service and comfort.

Congratulations, Mason's..!

Lovely dinner from curried carrots and Thai mussels to duck (wonderful sub for lamb porterhouse) and pork tenderloin quinoa and finished with rhubarb pineapple berry crisp and green tea pound cake. Service lovely and kitchen innovative. Very happy with Mason's redux.

-Carolyn Schmidt-Roberts

Had a lovely relaxing evening at Mason's Redux. The atmosphere is modern, chic and inviting. The staff is friendly, courteous, and professional. Rebecca, our server, was extremely accommodating. The owner, Chance, is so interactive and attentive to all the patrons; it is a pleasant and welcome attribute. Our food was delicious, and presented perfectly. The skate was delicious, and the lamb porterhouse chops were cooked to perfection. Cocktails and the wine list are wonderful. We will return soon, and will most definitely refer our friends to visit! We were loyal patrons of the original Mason's, and we will be here as well!

-Amy Gunzelman

No surprise that Mason's Redux created by Jeffrey and Chance is MAGNIFICENT! The decor is understated elegance, the atmosphere warm and inviting, the cuisine created by chef Erin is truly new American cuisine with exotic spices and ingredients complementing traditional staples. Will eat there every night that we eat out. Why go anywhere else?!
See you AGAIN Friday night! ciao ciao
